

Corporate License Program Overview

The DSXchange.com was created to advance the exposure of expert skills to newcomers as well as improve the overall proficiency of seasoned developers within the Data Integration marketplace, specifically around the products and strategies that surround the IBM InfoSphere Server Suite, featuring DataStage.

DSXchange.com Learning Center:

The DSXchange Learning Center is the education and training division of DSXchange.com. Consultants and developers within the Data Integration marketplace are lifelong learners and very busy people. Technology within this space is extremely complex and constantly changing. To address these challenges the Learning Center provides DVD, Webinar and On-site training for DSXchange.com members at substantial discounts. The Learning Center provides additional education within the White Papers, Tips and Tricks and Technical Resources Sections.

Individual Membership:

The DSXchange.com offers training at the DSXchange Learning Center to our individual members, both Standard and Premium, at a price an individual could justify as an investment in themselves, much in the same way we offer Premium memberships to the forum as a way to make the collective knowledge of our forum more valuable to all members.

Corporate Membership:

Corporations that purchase training at the Learning Center benefit from training their team members in a more flexible manner than otherwise available from expensive on-site or group training sessions. We believe our DVDs training materials provide Corporations a much greater value.

Therefore, DSXchange Training DVDs are sold and licensed in two forms, Personal License for individual use and Corporate License for company use. Personal Licenses or single use licenses were designed for individuals and Corporate Licenses or multiple use licenses were designed for multiple individuals within a single Company with either a single or multiple locations.
